SPORT SCRIBES PICK BEST TEAMS OF 1938 GRID SEASON

Morrisville and Bristol Players
Dominate The Chosen
Team
SOME PLACES DEBATED
Five Positions Were Practically Filled Before the Voting Began

FALLSINGTON, Dec. 1.—The All-Lower Bucks County grid eleven was picked by the sport scribes of this section at Fallsington High School last evening.

A glance at the squad will reveal that Morrisville and Bristol, the two student teams of the conference this season, dominated the team completely. The Bulldogs shaded Bristol slightly by gaining five spots to four for the Cardinals on the first eleven while the Langhorne Redskins placing in the other two berths.

While many positions were open for debate among the various players of the teams, there were five spots that were practically established before the voting began. In fact, the scribes gave the quintet of players who filled those berths a unanimous vote. Those honored in this selection were Johnson of Morrisville, VanLenten of Bristol, Ciaccia of Bristol, Mattis of Morrisville, and Yeager of Morrisville.

The two places that occupied much of the time in discussion, argument and debate were the fourth post in the backfield and the center position. In each case there was a split of votes for a lengthy period of time during which the scribes for both individuals involved were presented over and over again.

And still after all the evidence was given, the two players seemed about equal in every respect and the deadlock remained until after five votes were taken, Bob Corrigan of Langhorne, a senior, finally won out over Albert "Charl" Tomlinson of Bristol, for the snapper-back position, the shift finally being on the score that Corrigan was a senior.

In the backfield, the fight was waged between Andy Gavin of Morrisville, and Walt Wasurka of Fallsington, with the former winning out after a heated debate. In this situation, both individuals were seniors. However, Wasurka has left school since the grid season ended.

Morrisville also gained one more spot on the second eleven than did Bristol, securing three to two on that team, while on the third team Bristol placed two and Morrisville one.

Overlooked on the first squads were representatives from Bensalem, Fallsington and Newtown. On the second team, Fallsington gained two spots and Bensalem and Newtown each one with Morrisville again dominating the eleven with three places. Bristol and Langhorne each secured two positions on that team too.

"AMERICANIZATION" OF AIRLINES TO CUT MISHAPS

Mastery of Blind Flying Held Vital Due to Famed
London Fogs
LACK THE EQUIPMENT
By J. C. Oestreicher
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Nov. 29.—(INS)—Demands for a thoroughgoing "Americanization" of Great Britain's commercial airlines mounted today as the advent of winter with its fog and rain brought increasing revelation that neither British planes nor airports are equipped to deal with the handicaps of treacherous weather.

Despite the fact that London is famed throughout the world for pea-soup fogs and rain that falls throughout the winter months with depressing regularity, little or no progress has been made here in the art of blind flying.

Commercial and military aerial authorities alike are frank in admitting that despite the fact England has more need to master blind flying than any other country, planes, pilots and air fields are all poorly equipped for this necessity.

The fault was brought clearly home to the country at large only a few days ago when the giant new 42-passenger airliner Ensign, built at a cost of $3,500,000 for the London-Paris route and later to be used on Empire lines, was forced to land at some isolated spot outside the capital because Croydon airfield was enveloped in fog.

The passengers finished their journey by automobile, grumbling at the inadequacy of a system that cannot guarantee a landing at the leading airfield in the British Empire in weather which from November to February is to be expected as commonplace.

"We simply are not equipped for blind flying," one commercial aviation official said. "Our pilots have not been trained in it as have those of the continent and the United States, and there is much to be done before our radio beacons and similar facilities are sufficiently advanced."

Passenger planes take off from Croydon and other London fields in weather that would ground ships in the United States. But fog and rain is so prevalent here through the winter months that flight cancellations for this reason would result in virtual suspension of service over long periods.

The government's failure to realize the necessity for developing blind flying, training pilots in the art and advancing the necessary funds for radio beacons and other necessities, has aroused a storm of protest in the press but there has yet been no sign of an improvement.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

Preparations are being completed for the Winter meeting of Lower Bucks and Philadelphia County Pomona Grange, No. 22, which will be held in Tyro Hall Grange hall at this place on Wednesday morning and afternoon, December 7th.

No particular grange in Pomona has been designated to serve as host on this occasion.

The lecturer, Mrs. R. Walker Jackson, Newtown, a member of Middletown Grange, is preparing an interesting program for that occasion. A delegation from the Chester-Delaware Pomona Grange, it is expected, will attend the meeting.

Lunch will be furnished by Tyro Hall Grange.

Mrs. John Carson, who resides on the River road, New Hope, left on Monday to visit in Guatemala. She expects to return to her home on December 18th. Mrs. Carson entertained her sisters, Mrs. William G. Moore, Sewickley; Mrs. C. Swayne Phillips, Upper Mountclair, N. J., and Mrs. Mangbon Caskin, Jr., New York City, several days last week.

Seventeen of the approximately 50 members of the Concord Persevering Horse Company, which was organized more than a century ago, on Saturday evening attended the annual banquet held in the Fountain House, Doylestown. During the evening a delicious turkey dinner was served.

A very brisk business session was conducted and at that time the following officers were re-elected for another year: President, David Stewart, Jamison; secretary, Samuel Radcliffe, Forest Grove, and treasurer, Joseph F. Worstall, Doylestown.

Report was made during the evening that no losses had been sustained by the members during the past year.

Many years ago this was one of the flourishing organizations of the community, and its numerous members were insured against loss by theft of horses and other property. Policy holders, however, were not protected against the loss of poultry.

A Backfire On Defense
Washington, Nov. 30.
AS the new Congress approaches it becomes clear that the national defense program of the President, generally known now as the "Fourth New Deal," is not going to go through with the sort of bang anticipated in some quarters.

On the contrary, a backfire has developed in various sections of the country. This is reflected by members of Congress who have been drifting into Washington the last few days. The expressions of Senator Nye, of North Dakota, and of Senator Clark, of Missouri, are typical. Unquestionably a rearmament program will be presented and unquestionably legislation designed to strengthen the armed forces will be passed and an appropriation made. However, that either the legislation or the appropriation will be what the President asks or wants is beginning to seem somewhat remote.

GRANT TWO PAROLES;

Judge Calvin S. Boyer Recommends Bristol Man Because He Violated Parole

GIVES WARNING
DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 1.—Two paroles were granted and one violator of a parole recommitted by the Court on Tuesday afternoon.

Judge Calvin S. Boyer recommitted William J. (Charles) Sharkey, 33, of Bristol, to the Bucks County Prison because he violated his parole. The defendant, who pleaded guilty to felonious entry, larceny and receiving stolen goods and was sentenced on March 23 by Judge Boyer to serve not less than six months nor more than five years in the County Prison, promised the Court he would abstain from drinking intoxicating liquors.

He was granted a parole September 13 by Judge Boyer.

Charged with drunken and disorderly conduct, the defendant was committed to the County Prison by Justice of the Peace James Guy, of Bristol, September 22.

Warning him about his promise which he broke, Judge Boyer told the defendant it was too bad that he didn't value his freedom enough to let liquor alone. He was recommitted for the balance of his maximum term, but if his behavior warrants, may make application for a re-parole later.

Charles Rupert, 32, who pleaded guilty to obtaining money under false pretences and was sentenced to serve not less than three months nor more than three years in the County Prison, was granted a parole by Judge Boyer because he has obtained employment on a farm, near Plumsteadville.

The defendant, who was described as a good worker in the prison, by Sheriff William L. Stackhouse, made a contract for his new job while hauling stone from the Plumstead township farm to the prison. Although he was still in prison at the time the defendant asked the Plumstead farmer for a job and was told he could work for $5 a week and his board.

His minimum sentence expired November 18. He was released and the county was directed to pay the costs of prosecution. He began his sentence August 18.

President Judge Hiram H. Keller granted a parole to Joseph Hukawicz, 49, of Wismer. Pleading guilty to drunken driving, Hukawicz was sentenced May 18 to serve not less than six months nor more than three years in the County Prison.

He was granted a parole with the provision that he remove his wife and five children from the store room at Wismer, where they have been residing, to Newark, N. J., where he has procured employment.

Receipt of More

EXCEED 1937 TOTALS
Believe More Money Will Be Received and That Final
Total Will Be $15,000

Figures were released today showing the progress of the drive for funds for the Boy Scouts in Bucks County. The amount thus far collected this year greatly exceeds the amount contributed last year. Issuance of the figures has been delayed so as to give the latest available amounts. The statement also includes the amounts subscribed last year. The amount thus far exceeds the minimum goal by $1,000 and the workers hope that enough money will be received during the year to bring the final total up to $15,000.

Some workers have requested that the amount subscribed be credited to their community and not mingled with the reports from other communities nearby. It is not possible to give this kind of report this year but during the next campaign, all amounts will be credited to specific communities and not mingled in groups as was done this year.

It was decided to hold the usual window display contest during anniversary week in February and to ask each of the troops to assume as a project the destroying of tent caterpillar eggs. The next meeting of this committee is set for January 10th.

Cold Weather Is Dangerous For All Motorists

Cold weather is not always healthy weather for the motorist, because closed windows and doors bring danger of carbon monoxide. According to F. Kenneth Schultz, emergency road service manager of The Automobile Club of Philadelphia, A. A. A., "one part of carbon-monoxide gas to 10,000 parts of pure air will cause you to lose consciousness in 15 minutes."

"Remember that, when you try to warm up your car in a closed garage. Before you've time to realize what's wrong and try to save yourself, carbon monoxide can sneak up on you—fatally."

"Even when the car is in motion, there is danger of carbon monoxide if your exhaust pipe is leaky and your windows are tightly closed. In smaller doses, it causes severe headaches and fatigue. You can't sniff it in time to escape . . . so be careful!"

"—And in this connection, it's wise to open your car windows when stopping or turning, to signal your intentions to the driver behind. He can't see your hand inside the car any better in drab winter than in bright summer. . . . You've seen accidents or near-accidents caused by drivers turning suddenly without warning. . . . It's easier to have a cold draft in the car for a little moment than an accident of great moment."

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

People who aren't aware by now that Christmas is just around the corner probably are too far gone to respond to our feeble pulmotor. They are lost souls who will go through the season without ever knowing it has been here. They are quite hopeless and we give them up. Even so we see our duty and we do it: This is to inform them and everyone that Christmas is approaching.

There are, to be sure, other reminders of it by the dozen. In downtown Bristol for instance, one sees Christmas in the hurrying crowds, in the street and store decorations, in the Christmas packages under every arm; one hears it in the quickening tone of holiday conversation; one feels it in the air. The signs of approaching Christmas are many and colorful, and they make of the two or three weeks before the day itself a period of anticipation and excitement like no other in the year. People who let it go by unnoticed are people to be pitied.

The Christmas season this year is in a number of ways several jumps ahead of its recent predecessors. No body ever saw so many people downtown, many of them apparently from out of town come to the stores to do their Christmas shopping. All the stores are full and predicting record sales. The post office is more than holding its own.

All such matters fire us with great amounts of enthusiasm. We are the original Christmas fan, and have acquired our Christmas spirit even if the shopping must wait until later. It is a feeling, we think, which is eminently more satisfactory when shared with others. In the Christmas season, as in no other, it is better to give than to receive, even if one's only gift is a part of the feeling for Christmas. In a Christmas when many people will be happy, it is unfortunate that not everyone will be. In Bristol at any rate, make their number as small as it can be.

ONE COUPLE A CROWD

Much has been written and said for and against swingers, all to no avail one way or another, since youth will have its swing and diehards die hard. Getting down to brass tacks, however, or whatever else may serve as coin or currency of the realm, the money angle of this current dancing craze may turn out to be the most effective of all. The devotees of swing are "bad medicine" for the dance business, says the association of ballroom operators of a mid western state.

This group has turned thumbs down on jitterbugs, not on any basis of morals or good taste, but strictly on business grounds. An official of the association says: "One jitterbug couple takes up enough room for five ordinary dancing couples, and drives out the more conservative class of dancers."

Five couples bring in more money to the boxoffice than one; the cash argument is persuasive and may sound the death knell of the current fashion, at least indoors where there is rent to pay and orchestras to hire and other expenses. So do the crass and material things of life persist in interfering with fun.

Who now remembers when wars ended with smashing victories, instead of perfunctory armistices?

If a belief in a year-round Santa Claus can dwindle in California, it can die anywhere.

ROAD ACCIDENTS ARE FREQUENT NOW

This is Considered the Danger Zone of The Year

MANY SAFEGUARDS

HARRISBURG, Dec. 1—We are now in the danger zone of the year on the highways. It is in the autumn and winter months, when conditions are uncertain, that traffic accidents occur most frequently.

During the next few months motorists should use more caution than at any other time of the year. Early darkness, along with the rush hours on city streets, makes driving more hazardous. Wet leaves on city streets and highways present an unsuspected slippery condition. Fog is widely prevalent at this time of the year. And the first appearance of snow or sleet off-times takes drivers unaware and may lead to disastrous results.

Such conditions are factors over which the Department of Highways has no control except to take measures to reduce the hazards and warn motorists of the dangers ahead.

Many safety features have been introduced on our highways during the past few years to enable motorists to drive safely in all kinds of weather.

Luminous paint that glows with the reflection of automobile headlights upon it is replacing ordinary paint as a white line guide. These new white stripes are more readily seen on rainy nights. In areas where fog is prevalent, broken yellow lines are painted in the center of the road and are easily discerned by motorists in heavy fog.

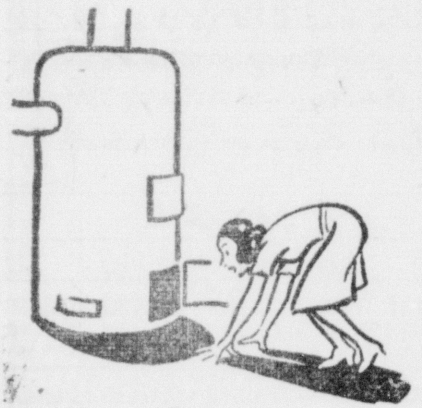

A third lane on hills for trucks is welcomed by passenger traffic. Two lanes are designated for ascending traffic, permitting motorists to pass slow-moving trucks with safety, and the third lane only is for descending vehicles.

Reflector buttons, installed on the white line, guide motorists around dangerous curves during unfavorable weather conditions.

Many are saved from straying off the road by white discs, finished in luminous paint, which are posted near the edge of the shoulder to outline the course of the road.

These innovations, of course, serve their purpose in every month of the year. In addition to these is the Department's vast snow removal program that keeps the highways open throughout the winter. And even when the roads are free of snow the crews keep on the lookout for slippery conditions on hills and curves, correcting them by scattering cinders.

NEW FACES IN POLITICS

PAYNE H. RATNER
Governor-Elect of Kansas

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 1—(INS)—Payne H. Ratner, new Republican Governor of Kansas, is only 42 years old—one of the youngest chief executives in the history of the Sunflower state.

Known as a "liberal" Republican, he was county attorney of Labette County and now is serving his second term as a member of the State Senate. Like the new Republican U. S. Senator, Clyde M. Reed, he is a resident of Parsons, in southeast Kansas.

Ratner introduced one of the early bills in the Kansas legislature to provide for the payment of state old age pensions. Also, he was an enthusiastic supporter of the Federal Child Labor Amendment. One of his most effective vote-getting issues in the gubernatorial campaign was a promise to take the two per cent sales tax off food products.

Ratner was elected with the backing of the state organization of former Governor Alf M. Landon.

He was born at Casey, Ill., and his family moved to Wichita, Kan., when he was a boy. His father had been raised on a western Kansas ranch.

Young Ratner attended Washington University, St. Louis, and while a student there, entered the navy and served during the World War. He completed his studies after the war.

He married Miss Cliffe Dodd, of Tulsa, Okla., and they have three children, Payne, Jr., 14; Cliffe Warren, 9; and Julia Marie, 4.

Ratner is an active member of the Christian Church. He has been a vigorous supporter in the legislature of progressive educational measures and of labor legislation.

ERROR OVERLOOKED

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—(INS)—George W. Borin of Bella Vista shot a doe while hunting deer near Ingot. Although it's against the law to slay the females, the State Fish and Game Commission did not prosecute the hunter, Charles R. Love, game warden, said the doe had "as beautiful a pair of forked horns as ever grew on a buck."

POLICE SEE SNAKES

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(INS)—Seeing snakes became literally true, right in the Louisville police station.

A brown-spotted reptile, held as evidence against a man who police said got tipsy and poked the "pet" in people's faces, got out of its box and slithered across the floor.

Blue coats flew, nightsticks crashed on the floor, and general disorder among the officers followed before it was captured.

TRAFFIC PATROL

CHICAGO—(INS)—A traffic accident prevention film showing police departments how to cut down vehicle mishaps by concentrating patrol on places where accidents of a particular type occurred before has been completed here. It was produced by the safety division of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, in collaboration with the Northwestern University traffic safety institute.

ON THE SCREENS

BRISTOL

A most revealing story of underworld intrigue and of the efforts of law enforcement agencies to combat racketeering, unfolded on the screen yesterday at the Bristol Theatre when "Smashing the Rackets" had its initial showing.

This RKO Radio film is unique in the fact that it shows the cause of an important social problem as it exists today, and also vividly illustrates how it may be solved by concerted co-operation between citizens and legal machinery.

Presenting Chester Morris, Frances Mercer, Rita Johnson and Bruce Cabot in the four leading roles. "Smashing the Rackets" deals with a sensational racket purge in a large city.

The dramatic story also throws light on the clever system employed by organized racketeers in defrauding the public, particularly business men who are forced by intimidation to pay heavy tribute for so-called "protection."

The iron-fisted methods used by Morris, as the special grand jury prosecutor who has come up from the ranks of the G-Men, in gaining evidence that sends the gang chiefs up the river, is realistically and absorbingly revealed.

A dual romance is threaded throughout the dramatic plot. Frances Mercer is cast as a society girl in love with Morris, while Rita Johnson is seen as Miss Mercer's sister who becomes innocently involved with the underworld when she falls in love with a racketeer baron, Bruce Cabot.

The four principals turn in forceful tance to the picture in its size and dramatic performances and their deft acting does much toward building the suspense of the action-cramped story. Other players in the cast who earn recognition are Edward Pawley, Joseph de Stefani, Donald Douglas, Kay Sutton and Ben Welden.

Ably directed by Lew Landers, "Smashing the Rackets" was produced by B. P. Fineman, and Lionel Houser is credited with the screen play.

GRAND

Boasting a story genuinely human in theme, richly enhanced by homely humor, with scenes laid in the contrasting backgrounds of a quaintly rustic section of Pennsylvania and the entertainment world of Chicago, and with an elaborate and beautiful sequence of an ice-skating carnival as its show-piece, Bobby Breen's latest and by far most pretentious picture, "Breaking the Ice," approaches screen presentation. It will be seen at the Grand Theatre, Thursday and Friday.

Featuring the world's youngest ice figure-skater, Irene Dare, and Charlie Ruggles and Dolores Costello, at the head of a supporting cast of brilliant names, the film takes rank easily as Bobby Breen's most important vehicle.

Bobby himself, whose glorious singing voice has enriched four previous pictures, emerges in "Breaking the Ice" as an entirely different screen personality. The boy is strangely revitalized. Many of the mannerisms which he had been taught to adopt in his previous work are gone, and he stands out as a dominant character, a scrappy, happy-go-lucky youth who fights adversity with a song on his lips and dynamite in his fists.

Another factor which lends impor-

THE SNOW STORM

quality. Plain is the fact that this is the costliest of all Bobby Breen features to date. The sets are elaborate, and the songs the boy sings are the best he has ever had.

It is interesting to observe that Victor Young, the noted orchestra leader, is responsible for the musical setting, and that Frank Churchill, in collaboration with Paul Webster, wrote three of the five songs Bobby sings. Churchill is the man who composed those unforgettable numbers in Disney's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

The picture numbers among its supporting cast such stellar players as Charlie Ruggles and Dolores Costello, and Robert Barrat, Dorothy Peterson, Charlie Murray and Billy Gilbert. But the big surprise is little Irene Dare, the six-year-old figure skater who is known throughout the middle-West as the "Baby Sonia Henie."

STATE NEWS

TYRONE—(INS)—Four deer, chased off a nearby hill by hunters, invaded Huntingdon, near here, and created plenty of excitement in the business district. Three of the deer managed to back-track to the hills but a doe took a short cut through a window in the rear of the home of Mrs. Ella Africa, went right through the house and out a front window. The doe then wound up in the cellarway of a gas station where it was injured. A State game warden took care of the last act.

LEWISBURG—(INS)—Dr. William Lyon Phelps of Yale University, noted professor and author, will come to Bucknell University on Thursday, December 1, as the first speaker in the Bucknell lecture series. Sponsored by the student body, the lecture series will present, in addition to Dr. Phelps, two other noted speakers this year.

HOW 25 WOMEN LOST UGLY FAT

In Special N. Y. Test

Ask Your Doctor If It Isn't Good Way. Read EVERY Word

NEW YORK, N. Y.—In a test by a prominent N. Y. Physician and nationally known newspaper woman—25 women lost a total of 25 lbs. in 40 days. YOU too, can follow this SAME, SENSIBLE plan right at home and here it is.

First of all go light on fatty meats and sweets. Eat plentifully of lean meats, fish, fowl, fresh fruits and vegetables. And for proper functioning—take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen salts in hot water every morning. DON'T MISS A MORNING! And this is important! Kruschen is NOT harmful. It is not just one salt as some people ignorantly believe. Rather it's a blend of 6 active mineral salts (formula right on box) which when dissolved in water make a beautiful mineral drink similar to famous European Spa waters where wealthy fat women have gone for years. A jar of Kruschen costs only a few cents and makes 5 gallons of a most highly efficient mineral drink. So fat ladies—set some gumption! MAKE UP YOUR MIND! YOU'LL STICK to the above Plan for 28 days—and just see if you don't lose fat and feel healthier and younger. (Note: You can get Kruschen at United Drug Co. and druggists everywhere.)—Advertisement.

Behind the Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL

Copyright, 1933

King Features Syndicate, Inc.

HOLLYWOOD—According to Hollywood's last word, Kay Francis has been touring the West Indies on a tramp steamer...

which is going to cause more speculation about the wedding plans of the star and of the Baron Erik Barnekow. Their idea was for them to be married at his ancestral home in Europe, then to visit South America. Instead, Kay is doing the West Indies alone except for her secretary.

Kay Francis

That impersonator of Bernard Punsley, of the "Dead End" kids, finally went too far. The police arrested him as he was awarding prizes at a local roller-drome. Posing, of course, as Punsley. Later he was released, but with a stern warning.

It was bound to happen—R-K-O has grounded Corrigan for the length of the picture, except when he is performing for the movie cameras. Studio executives almost collapsed when they heard that the Irish flyer was experimenting with other old planes at a Culver City airport. He's been told he mustn't do it again; in fact, that he mustn't even fly his own plane unless the director tells him to.

On the "Idiot's Delight" set, 3-Man Edward Tamm shook Clark Gable's hand and said "Thank you." Tamm was one of the federal operatives who wrote finish to Dillinger's career in Chicago. He was thanking Gable because one of Clark's early pictures, "Manhattan Melodrama," was so interesting that Dillinger stayed to see it twice, thus giving the G-Men time to carefully lay their trap.

Riding in the place of a dead man, Spencer Tracy made four goals for Director Frank Borzage's polo team the other day. Due to his showing, he'll be made a permanent member of the team, succeeding the late Cecil Christian, who was killed in a recent motor crash.

Phyllis Brooks and Cary Grant in thank the cast of "Charlie Chan in Honolulu" for the fact that they were able to keep their hankering date in New York. The picture ran over schedule and Phyllis and the rest of the troupe worked long hours so that Phyllis could finish in time to grab a plane and greet Cary as he came down the gang-plank of the Normandie.

Talked with Joan Blondell and she says she definitely won't sign again with Warners unless it is for one picture a year or some deal of the sort. Joan's seven-year contract expires early in 1939. She really will have been with the studio almost eight years, the extra time resulting from a couple of suspensions and from the enforced layoffs when she had the two babies.

There's a chance that Powell will wind up at Warners about the same time. He has an option coming up, calling for two straight years at a big jump in salary. If Warners won't pay it and if Dick won't stay at the same money, he and Joan may find themselves free to try out their idea of touring the country in a play.

Dick Arlen, of all people, may be the next Hollywood star to make a personal appearance tour at the head of a band. He'll confine himself to waving a baton and to m. c.-ing. . . .

Local theaters have given George Bancroft a great break. He's in "Submarine Patrol," and in "Angels With Dirty Faces." . . . Ell Culbertson, with Elaine Barrie for a partner, was trimmed at bridge on the "Midnight" set by Claudette Colbert and Don Ameche. . . .

Charlie Chaplin's two sons will be water boys for the Black-Foxe eleven. . . . Alice Faye's brother Bill and Sugar Geise were in the Tropics telling friends that they'll be married much sooner than anyone expects. . . .

The three newlyweds in the "Idiot's Delight" company are hoping that Tennessee gets the bid to the Rose Bowl. If it does, Director Clarence Brown has promised them all four tickets. . . .

New York's Governor Lehman and his wife took in a show at the Troc. . . . Rosalind Russell and Billy Sellwyn a twosome there. . . . And Virginia Garner at the Club 17 with Harold Lieberman. . . .

Al Siegel is so impressed by the generosity of the waiters at Maxie Rosenbloom's—contributing to send Virginia Matthews to Siegel's coaching school—that he is offering to give free instructions to another nightclub singer. Let the clubs send their prospects and he'll choose the most promising one.

NAME TWO BRISTOL BOYS ON ALL-STAR FOOTBALL TEAM

Wilbur Van Lenten and Joe Cielalla Are Picked For Game

NAME "CHUCK" KLEIN

Will Play in The Charity "Dream Game" Against The Best Scholastic Ranks

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—Word was received here early last evening that two Bristol High athletes and one from Langhorne were chosen on the Philadelphia Suburban "All-Star" team to participate in the charity "All-Scholastic Dream Game" between the pick of the Philadelphia scholastic ranks and the greater Philadelphia Suburban schools.

The three Lower Bucks stars to receive this honor were Wilbur Van Lenten and Joe Cielalla, of Bristol, and Charles "Chuck" Klein, of Langhorne. All three of these boys, while being selected for this dream game, were later to be picked as the best in their respective positions among the Lower Bucks scholastic group last night at a meeting of the Lower Bucks sport scribes with Jimmy Doherty of Fallsington at Fallsington High School.

Van Lenten, Cielalla and Klein were named by 41 coaches from the Philadelphia Suburban schools and the Philadelphia scholastic sports writers at a special meeting at the Penn Athletic Club yesterday afternoon. They will comprise part of the 33 player, or three team squad, to battle against the All-Philadelphia scholastic stars some time later this month for the benefit of the ladies' auxiliary of the Children's Heart Hospital of Philadelphia.

The Suburban mentors selected to guide this team in the big game are Ted Sattersfield, of Clifton Heights; Joe Daher, of Bridgeport; and H. T. Myers, of Ambler. At the same time the All-Philadelphia coaches include Ank Scanlon, of St. Joe's Prep, winner of the Philadelphia Catholic title this year; Harold Geiges, of Northeast High; and Cooper French, of Germantown Academy. Myers piloted his Ambler outfit to the Bux-Mont conference title this past season.

Of the 51 schools from which the stars were picked, 21 received one or more positions on the team with Norristown and Ambler receiving the most places, each gaining three. Upper Darby, Lower Merion, Bridgeport, Clifton Heights, Haverford and Downingtown along with Bristol all received two spots on the chosen eleven. The rest of the schools, including Jenkintown, Hatboro, Valley Forge Military Academy, Prospect Park, Lansdale, Abington, Darby, Glen-Nor, Ridley Park, Langhorne, and Ridley Township, all received one berth on the named team.

All the boys named are Seniors, and they must have the written consent of their parents to participate in the game.

While Van Lenten was named on the first team, Cielalla was picked on the third squad, as was Klein of Langhorne. Van Lenten and Cielalla were selected for their great defensive play throughout the campaign, while Klein received merit on his running, punting and passing ability.

The entire team by positions is composed of the following:

Ends: Gauer, Upper Darby; C. Bearoff, Bridgeport; Schofield, Lower Merion; and Macart, Ambler.

Tackles: Molster, Norristown; Van Lenten, Bristol; Whitefield, Lower Merion; Cavanaugh, Clifton Heights; Carpenter, Hatboro; Quinn, Valley Forge Military Academy.

Guards: Machette, Conshohocken; O'Brien, Ambler; Cottingham, Haverford; Capriotti, Downingtown; Cielalla, Bristol.

Centers: Phillips, Clifton Heights; Shalinho, Norristown.

Backs: Anderson, Upper Darby; Macartney, Haverford; Martin, Prospect Park; Bricker, Lansdale; Bolognese, Bridgeport; Cunningham, Abington; Hardy, Darby; Martin, Norristown; Zuck, Glen-Nor; Donofrio, Downingtown; Thomas, Ridley Park; Klein, Langhorne; Zollo, Ambler; and Vitulli, Ridley Township.

The game is tentatively scheduled to be played at the Municipal Stadium, Philadelphia, on Saturday afternoon, December 17.

WOMEN SHOW KEEN INTEREST IN BASKETBALL

The women of this borough are lovers of the indoor sport of basketball. This is evident by the number of the fair sex that are attending the basketball games of the Bristol Basketball League. Despite the inclement weather, nightly when games are scheduled, a large ensemble of female rooters attend and cheer for their respective teams.

Another crowd is expected tonight when the Grundy's team meets the Celtic's at the Celtic's gymnasium. The Grundy and Goodwill teams were defeated in their opening contests. Goodwill losing to Manhattan and Grundy's to St. Ann's. The Hibos have a triumph tucked under their belt while in its first start, the Celts dropped a close one to Rohm and Haas.

Although slightly favored to win, the Goodwill team must be on guard against the wool twisters for the Hermann-coached boys are apt to spring a surprise and deal a disastrous blow to the firemen.

The Hibos will have a fight on their hands in trying to stop the circus shots of Jimmy Lake. It was principally the work of this forward with the aid of Wilbur Van Lenten which extended the Rohm and Haas team last week.

Opening tap-off is scheduled to take place at eight o'clock sharp.

PERSONAL FOUL RULE TO BE EFFECTIVE HERE

In order to speed up the games of the Bristol Basketball League, the managers and directors decided to abide by two of the intercollegiate rules they had eliminated earlier in the season. The changes were made at a meeting of the circuit held in the Rohm & Haas Social Club. Both changes will be effective tonight.

The personal foul rule was put into effect. Heretofore a player could foul as many times as he pleased and not be put out of the game. With the ruling last night, a player leaves the game after four personals. The other change concerns the throwing in of the ball after a foul goal. Heretofore, after every foul, the ball was brought back to center for a tap-off.

The officials of the league approved the appointment of Albert Tentilucci as official timer.

Bristol Nimrods Bag Fine Doe This Season

ing 70 pounds. These two, with others spent Tuesday in Cumberland county in their successful search.

William Frake, Jr., Cedar street who accompanied five other gunners from Morrisville, came home with his deer, as did each of the others in the party. Six deer for six hunters was the total for this group who searched for game on Hunters Range, Pike county.

A number of men from the county seat bagged doe on the first day out. Herbert Brown shot a deer near White Haven on Monday, the animal weighing about 85 pounds. Robert Abrams also in the party, shot a deer near the same spot, this one weighing approximately 80 pounds.

Lester Fryling, Doylestown, bagged a deer, believed to weigh about 100 pounds, near Lake Warren, Monday morning. Other members of the party included Howard Hahl and Floyd Golde, Doylestown, and Lee Ramsey, Hatboro.

Donald Brickmeyer, Doylestown Moose fullback, shot a deer in Monroe county on Monday. He was accompanied by Clarence Loux, former Doylestown high school student.

With eight hunters members of a hunting party near White Haven each of the nimrods bagged a deer with the exception of George Hansell, Mechanicsville.

Doylestown nimrods who were lucky included Henry Barrett, who had his 120 pound deer in the bag by 7:30 o'clock, and Lloyd Mill, who also returned with a prize deer.

By and large, hunting conditions were the most nearly perfect in years, with the heavy snow—piled in some places as high as five feet—helping the gunners track down the deer.

A heavy kill, estimated by some at more than 10,000 deer, was reported. Altogether, the hunters were expected to bring down nearly 100,000 during the six-day season.

A heart-breaking story was brought back by Robert Irwin, of the county seat, who was hunting in Tinicum township. He states that he came upon a herd of five deer, and aiming at the largest missed. Re-loading his gun he took aim, but found he had not emptied his gun, and was trying to discharge an empty shell. In his excitement, after casting aside the used shell, he jammed the gun. By that time, the herd sensing danger, hurried away.

EDGELY

be down on punts, and a good pass receiver. His play in the Bristol game added the Bulldogs in conquering the Cards for the title.

VAN LENTEN, Bristol—Another who was given a unanimous vote as the best tackle in the conference this year. Wilbur was especially good at blocking punts and smearing a passer. He was good on the defense, shifted to end to receive passes at times, and also did some kicking for the extra point in which he succeeded in booting it once to beat Conshohocken. Played his best game against Newtown.

CIALELLA, Bristol—The third to receive a unanimous vote for his position. Joe was probably the most outstanding guard in the conference this year. He was a tower of strength on the defense with his accurate shoe-string tackles, blocking punts (one of which led to Langhorne's downfall), blocking passes before they could get off, and in leading plays. His ability as a field general also stood out. Joe played consistently good ball throughout the season, winding up in a blaze of glory against the Bulldogs in the annual Thanksgiving Day clash.

CORRIGAN, Langhorne—The center this year were not particularly outstanding although they were pretty good. Corrigan won out over Tomlinson of Bristol by a very narrow margin after a heated debate. The Redskins center was a good line backer on defense, blocked kicks, and also passes. Was down on punts fast and played a great game against Newtown.

MATTIS, Morrisville—Another unanimous choice for his position. Like Cielalla, Mattis played good ball all season and was the stalwart of the Bulldogs' line on defense. Also fast he was down under Yeager's punts rapidly and helped the Bulldogs immensely in this way. Mattis played his best game against Bristol, helping materially as the Bulldogs beat Bristol.

WILSON, Morrisville—Shifted from his guard post, Wilson filled the bill as a tackle when needed and did a good job. He played well at both positions and also showed up well on the offense. In spite of an early back injury Wilson stood out in the Bristol game Thanksgiving Day.

WHITE, Bristol—Gaining momentum with the team from mid-season on to the finish and showing improvement right down to the last game. Wilmer played his best ball of the season in the curtain drawer against Morrisville. Down under punts fast, he recovered Gavin's fumble on the three-yard line that led to Bristol's lone score. A good pass receiver and a good defense man was White of Bristol.

KLEIN, Langhorne—Generally conceded to be the best punter in the conference, and one of the best passers. Klein was the bulwark of the Redskins' offensive attack, and was one of the league's leading scorers this year. His punting was the most outstanding feature to place him on the varsity array. Chuck played his best against Bristol in spite of the fact his team suffered a humiliating 20-0 set back.

YEAGER, Morrisville—Considered by many coaches and fans to be the most outstanding back in the county he was selected as the best ball totter and offensive star in the conference this year. His ability to run back punts, to punt and pass with equal skill of no mean ability, and his line charging and open field running were especially outstanding. Yeager exhibited his best brand of ball in helping his team down Bristol.

GAVIN, Morrisville—After a long and heated debate, this Bulldog back was finally given the edge over Walt Wasurka of Fallsington for the last spot in the first string backfield. He won eventually because of his exceptional blocking ability and his running and line smashing skill. Gavin stood out above all others in the Bulldog backfield in the game against Bensalem.

DI MIDIO, Bristol—Perhaps the best fullback in the conference (at least he was rated that honor), Danny was one of the two who placed on the All-League eleven last year and again this year. His line plunging ability, blocking skill, talented toe in punting, running and passing, mark him as perhaps the most versatile back in the entire conference. Danny can, and did do everything a good back is expected to do and with equal skill. He played good ball all season and especially in the Morrisville game.

As for the second team, all played good ball throughout the year and each was considered valuable to his respective team. The entire line performed brilliantly on the defense, while the backs could all run, punt and pass and were each one dangerous to the opposition at all times. Many of them just missed placing on the varsity by a single vote after lengthy discussions.

The third team was in the same position as the second team. All played good ball and deserved credit for their work through the campaign. Some of these boys missed the second team by only a single vote, too.

Of all the first team, only Jim Yeager of Morrisville, and Danny DiMidio of Bristol, placed on the team last year among those who returned to their respective teams this season. Jim Castro of Fallsington, however, was the only one on last year's first team who did not win his berth this season. Jimmy Orazi of Bristol, and Lloyd Reid of Langhorne, were the only second team selection of '37 who slipped to the third team or out altogether, which the Bristol back did this year.

Among those who pushed up from the second team to the varsity this year were VanLenten of Bristol, and Klein of Langhorne, with all the rest making their appearance for the first time on any team. Walt Wasurka and Bob Taddel were the only two who placed on the second team both this year and last year.

Danny DiMidio and Wilmer White, both of Bristol, were the only two on the first team who are Juniors. However, White is ineligible next year, thereby leaving DiMidio as the only first team member able to play next season again.

Jim Yeager was selected as the most valuable player in the conference this season because of his all around ability. The entire Bulldog offensive attack rested on his shoulders and was built around him, and for the second straight year he won the individual scoring honors among Lower Bucks scholastic stars.

The team selected at Fallsington high school last night, was picked by Jack Gill of Langhorne, Jack Scullin of Morrisville, and Lou Tomlinson of Bristol, together with James P. Doherty of Fallsington, the dean of Lower Bucks County coaches.

An odd feature of the '38 teams is that not a single sophomore picked on either of the three squads placed.
